Revision- Health & Safety Precautions for Upcoming Training Courses

Please understand that the health and safety for our participants, sponsoring agency staff, instructors and their family members is our primary concern.

There are continued risks of exposures to COVID-19 or Variants and TTCS recommends wearing face masks while attending classes for the health and safety of attending participants, sponsoring agency staff, instructors, and everyone's families.

If there are any changes from our Course Sponsor or Local, State and Federal authorities including the CDC and the NM Health Department that may require wearing masks or interfere with TTCS ability to provide a scheduled training course, we will promptly notify registered participants and/or their agencies and post the update on our website.

To minimize any exposures, TTCS will continue to follow basic health precautions for On-Site Training Classes that may include reduced class sizes to allow reasonable space between participants.

As a health and safety precaution for everyone, if one or more of your staff plans on attending training and have recently tested positive or is not feeling well with possible symptoms related to COVID, they need to cancel from the class.

If a participant is ill or not feeling well when they arrive for class or becomes ill during class, they may be asked to leave for the health and safety of others in attendance.

If you or your staff feels uncomfortable about attending a classroom training or becomes ill and decides to cancel, please notify us immediately so that we can contact agencies that may be on a standby list to attend that particular training class.

Disclaimer- Participants and/or their agencies accept all risks for any possible exposure and takes full responsibility for attending any TTCS on-site training class. TTCS will not be held responsible for any exposures to COVID-19 or any variants during a training class.

We thank you for your understanding and if you have any questions, concerns, or require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us, thank you.

Joel Ryan Executive Director, TTCS
